NOMAD APPOINTS MIKE BROCKBANK TO HEAD UP RAPLEY WILKINSON

Nomad Building Solutions Limited (Nomad) is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Mike Brockbank to the position of General Manager of its wholly owned subsidiary, Rapley Wilkinson. The appointment is effective from 21 February 2011 and Mr Brockbank will report to Nomad's Managing Director, Mr Michael Bourke.

Mr Brockbank is a civil engineer with extensive commercial construction and project management experience gained over the past 28 years, initially in Canada and more recently in Australia.

Mr Bourke said "Rapley is one of Western Australia's leading development and construction companies in regional and remote areas and the appointment of Mr Brockbank will greatly assist in the critical area of project delivery as well as restructuring and re-positioning Rapley to capitalise on a range of higher margin housing, commercial and infrastructure construction opportunities in the North-West of Western Australia".

Mr Bourke added "the appointment of a new General Manager for the Rapley business follows other changes being made across the Nomad Group to boost management expertise and the performance of Nomad's operating divisions. These changes include the January appointments of a new Operations Manager in Nomad Modular and our new Group HSEQ (Health, Safety, Environment and Quality) Manager. These appointments add significant building and construction industry experience as well as project delivery knowledge to our business".
